NEWSLETTER OF THE READING-BERKS INTERGROUP OF ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS

The Alternative: One Month At A Time

Welcome to the New Year and the revitalized Alternative - the monthly newsletter of the Reading-Berks Intergroup of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Our goals at the Alternative are not lofty ones, we'll leave that to others. In our efforts we will attempt to keep matters light, informative and maybe at times entertaining and enlightening. The primary mission is to help carry the message of recovery to our readers by keeping them informed of the activities and programs of the Reading-Berks Intergroup Committee and our member groups. We seek to enhance the unity of our fellowship and strengthening our common bonds while enhancing the lives we lead as individuals.

Content in the Alternative will ever evolving, adapting to the needs and concerns of our readers.

In addition to articles on Intergroup and individual Group activities, we will also feature "Vinelines" selected stories and articles from the Grapevine Magazine. With access to the Grapevine's archives we will be able to offer stories of hope that span the decades, proving once again that the more things change the more they stay the same.

Also featured will be the Intergroup's 12-Step Commitment Schedule, a Calendar of Events previewing activities and events of interest to the fellowship as well as occasional visits from the Grapevine's cartoon characters Victor E and Clara T.

The Alternative not only welcomes but encourages reader contributions and suggestions. It will be through this sharing of ideas that we may enhance the unity of our fellowship. We can be reached by mail at P.O. Box 12451, Reading, PA 196012 or by emailing us at Alternative@ReadingBerksIntergroup.org.

As noted at the outset, our goals at the Alternative are not lofty, but we are looking forward to the challenges and promise future issues hold - one month at a time.

A Few Good Women Corrections Effort Needs Volunteers

The RBI's Woman's Prison Outreach program is in need of a few good women to help conduct weekly AA meeting for female inmates at the Berks County Prison.

While four fellowship women currently volunteer for the program, more are needed says Diane, committee chairperson.

Women interested in volunteering must first complete an application through the Berks County Prison. After a criminal background check is completed - usually 2 to 4 weeks - volunteer applicants must participate a few hours of program orientation program at the prison. More detailed information on the process is available on-line at www.ReadingBerksIntergroup.org.

Each week women volunteers working a "buddy system" conduct AA meetings at the prison for female inmates. The meetings are held every Tuesday from 7 to 8 pm.

The meetings, very similar to regular AA meetings with the Serenity Prayer, How It Works and time for sharing, are currently well-attended with 20 to 25 women inmates participating, says Diane.

"It's a great experience, a good alternative to sponsoring and a great way to give back," Diane says.

Women interested in volunteering for the program can contact Diane at by email at WomansPrison@ReadingBerksIntergroup.org.

New Millennium Group Celebrates A Decade of Service

Over nine years ago, gathering in the home of Larry S., a Big Book meeting began with the help of Chad S., Mike M., and Joe. H. However, after little support, they decided such a meeting needed more structure and a permanent place.

Therefore, they sought out a local church and a format that allowed for an in-depth study of our basic text. After spreading the word, gathering basic supplies, and obtaining the support of Immaculate Conception Church, the first meeting of what would come to be known as the New Millennium Group was held on Sunday, January 2, 2000, at 7pm.

The group's trusted servants were elected, literature and supplies were purchased, and a format used by Brad S.'s old home group in Langhorne was adopted. Soon, the meeting flourished, with anywhere between ten and twenty-five people attending the meeting on any given week, including the weekly commitment to the group of the initial five men and Heidi K.

We also began sending representatives to District and Intergroup meetings, contributions to our service entities, and members on twelfth step calls to institutions. We made the first meeting of the month an "open meeting" so that family members and other non-alcoholics could attend, and we hold our "business meeting" a half-hour before the second meeting of the month.

We have joyfully watched new members sober up and we have, with sadness, seen others struggle in their efforts. Regardless, our core group of members arrives early, stays late, and offers an outstretched hand to new and old members each week.

Our format allowed us to spend the entire year reading the first 164 pages of the book Alcoholics Anonymous, in addition to the "Preface" and "Forwards", as well as

Anniversary Celebration Scheduled

The New Millennium Group of Birdsboro will be celebrating their 10th Anniversary Sunday, Jan. 31 with a evening of food, fellowship and speakers.

The evening begins at 6 pm at St. Paul's UCC Church, Washington & W. 2nd St., Birdsboro, with food and fellowship. A speakers meeting will follow at 7 pm with three speakers of various periods of sobriety offering their experience, strength and hope. All are welcome to help celebrate.

"Dr. Bob's Nightmare" or the traditions. Such a studious effort gives newcomer's exposure to the program and old timers a much-needed refresher.

On March 17, 2001, the group started a Saturday 8am, 11th Step Meeting, at Douglassville's St. Gabriel's Church. Five people, including three home group members, attended the initial meeting. Attendance now averages about thirty people, and we have a core group of regulars who have a special connection to the meeting. The concentration on prayer and meditation, including up to twenty minutes of meditation time, often allows us to regain our focus, both in A.A. and our daily lives.

In January of 2003, the group started an ongoing series of workshops focused on the twelve steps. We spent a full day at St. Gabriel's Church, studying and discussing each of the twelve steps in an in-depth manner.

The participants find the process invigorating and insightful. We also held a Home Group Workshop in the winter of 2005. In the spring of 2005, our Sunday meeting moved to its present location at St. Paul's U.C.C. Church.

In addition to the weekly meetings, a fellowship has developed, where group members spend time outside of the meeting, working to strengthen their relationships and sobriety.

We talk on the phone, travel to different meetings together, meet for picnics or A.A. gatherings, and invite each other into our homes to share in the A.A. way of life.

Thus, with a strong foundation for sobriety developed, the New Millennium Group hopes to continue to stay sober and carry the message of Alcoholics Anonymous to all who want to it.

vinelines SELECTIONS FROM THE GRAPEVINE

One Day at a Time

The ability to live one day at a time, unhampered by yesterday's mistakes and tomorrow's anxieties, is one of the priceless gems of wisdom of the ages.

This is the season of the noble looks, and the empty resolutions. But not, thank Heaven, for us. Not any more! Let others weep over the shattered remains of their good intentions. We've found something better, something we call our 24-hour plan.

We've learned at last what we cannot order our lives for a whole year ahead. Nor or a month in advance. No, not even for a week. We've learned to reduce the whole business of living to a size we can understand, and handle! The current 24-hours!

Now, at New Year's, with a new set of 365 24-hour units ahead of us, is a good time to re-examine this 24-hour philosophy of ours. At first, it was a defensive measure, a device to get off the stuff, a challenge to stop drinking and get started on the A.A. way of life. Many of us, however, toss the 24-hour plan away after the craving for a drink recedes from us. We feel we're above such childish things. We are masters of our own fate again. We don't have to have time chopped up into small bits, like meat for an infant.

If you're one of those, you've missed the whole point of the 24-hour philosophy.

Actually, the ability to live one day at a time, unhampered by yesterday's mistakes and tomorrow's anxieties, is one of the priceless gems of wisdom of the ages. The Bible tells us, "Give us this day our daily bread;" "Sufficient to the day is the evil thereof." We could fill this page with such familiar quotations, all merely other ways of describing our 24-hour plan.

Few of us will ever have a tougher problem to solve in this life than our own alcoholism. We had to break that one down to a size we could deal with, and lick! Our lesser everyday problems will yield to the same treatment.

It's a delightful technique, really! Whether we're job hunting, trying to reunite a broken home, or just trying to be a better guy, the trick is to concentrate on this one day. If we do the best we can today, then regardless of what our fears may try to tell us, we've done the most we could possibly do. We are a lot closer to our goal, we've accomplished more than we ever could if we had chosen to weight ourselves down with the twin millstones of yesterday and tomorrow. We are free to run, and we run the best race we can--today!

We've had our knowledge forced upon us, as a matter of personal survival. We've paid a horrible price, most of us. So let us not spurn one of the greatest lessons we've learned. Let the hung-over sad sacks vow, "Never again!" Let the self righteous say, "I shall control my future--." Let us remember our humility. Let us face 1949 as it comes, day by day.

Twenty-four hours is a big enough hunk of time for us to worry over. Thus, our resolutions may be smaller, less flashy. But on us, they look good! So--HAPPY NEW YEAR -- One day at a time!
